Is your business ready to evolve?

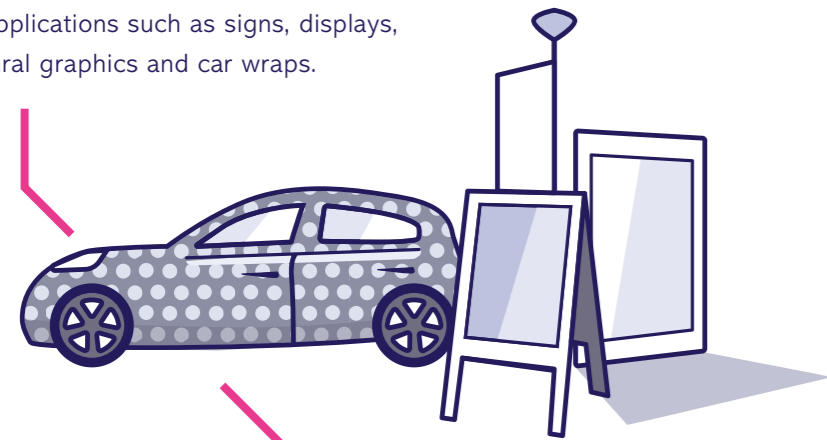

The market is evolving, and Antalis is here to help you evolve with it. Whether you are looking to diversify into new areas of business or upgrade your existing wide format equipment, we are here to help you harness the latest industry developments.

Relax. Antalis will guide you through the entire process of investing in new equipment. We are able to provide everything you need to upgrade your business. From hardware to training, media and support, Antalis is here to help you expand your business in any way you want.

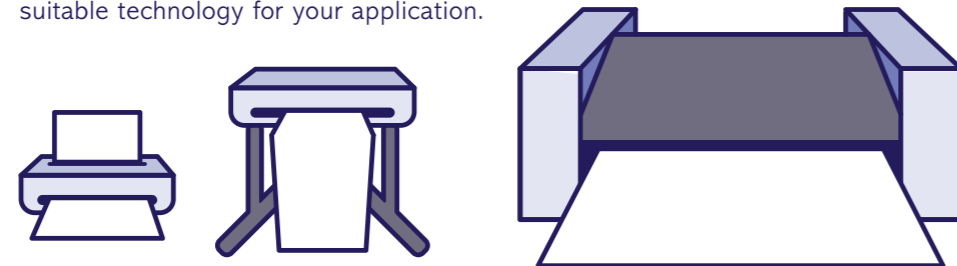

Can Antalis take your business to the next level?

Our extensive range of media and large format printers will enable you to expand your business to cover diverse applications such as signs, displays, architectural graphics and car wraps.

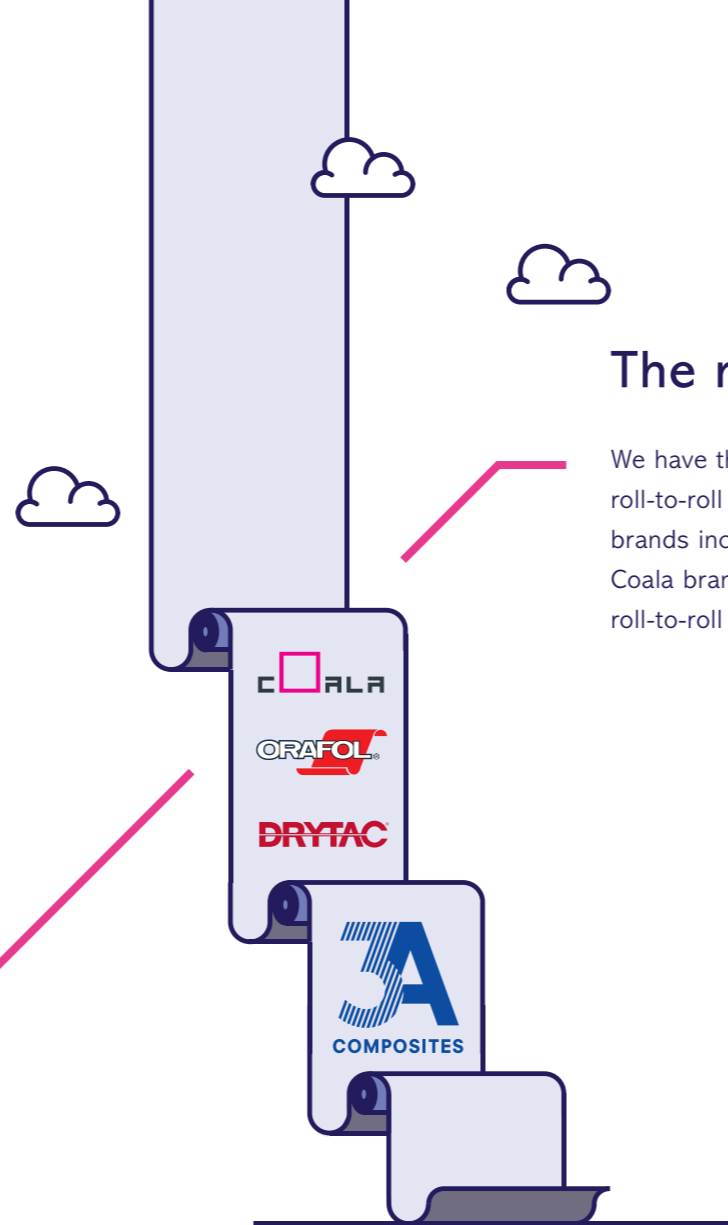

Expand your hardware, expand your market

Working with our specialist reseller partners AGFA, Granthams and Revolution Digital, we can bring you not only some of the best brands and the widest choice of wide format hardware in the market, but we can also help you find you the most suitable technology for your application.

The right tool for the job

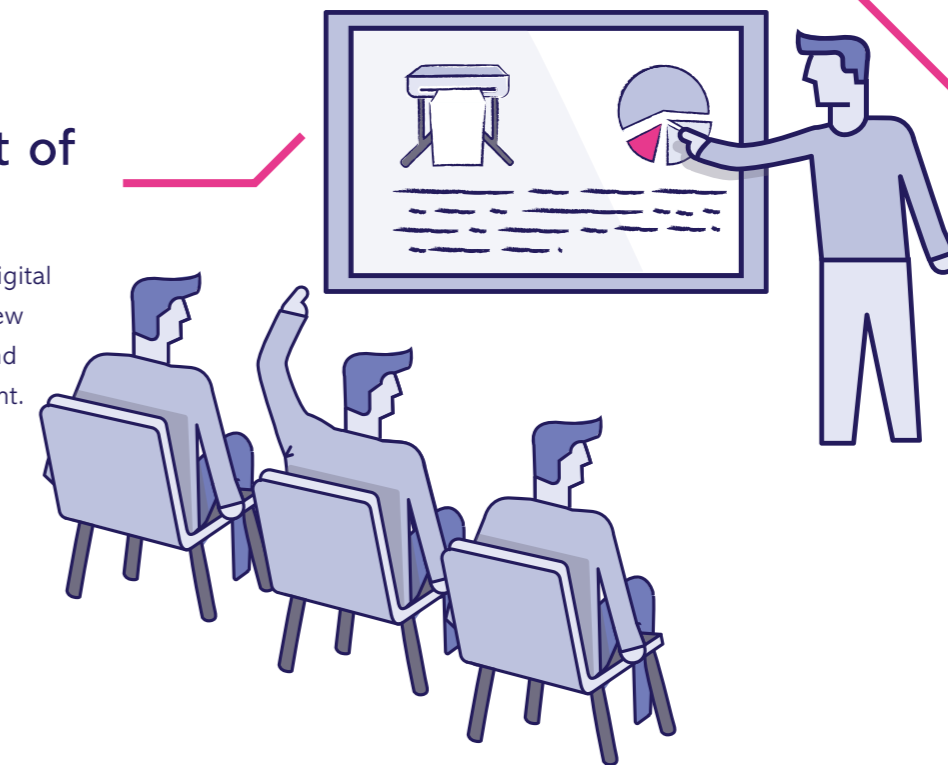

We have the UK's largest range of wide format roll-to-roll and flatbed media. Select from leading brands including Orafol, 3A, Drytac and our own Coala brand, which has the biggest range of roll-to-roll items on the market.

Get the most out of your machines

The hands-on workshops in our Digital Academy will help you discover new ways to diversify your business and maximise your return on investment.
